POLICE MAKE THREAT AGAINST KID RIDERS

County Policemen Edgar Hart and Moss Sowell have requested that this paper call attention of parents to the danger under the law which incites these newly-developed motorcycles which speed along the streets and highways. So this is what faces the boy or girl who speeds along on a motorcycle.

FOREIGN VISITORS GIVE HIGH PRAISE

Four Representatives From Other Nations Spend Week Here On Get-Acquainted Trip

Four members of the staff of the United States International Information Administration of the U. S. Department of State arrived in Statesboro last Thursday and remained here until yesterday as guests of the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Joe Neville, president, and Donald McDougald, a member of the organization, directed the schedule of visits for the visitors while here.

The visitors were Dominador Dizon, Manila, Philippines, a news editor with the department, a former editorial staff member of the English Times Magazine, The Manila Post, Literary Movie Magazine, and was public relations officer Philippine Red Cross; Bonsumern Punnakitmanand, photographer of Bangkok, Thailand, a former reporter with the English language Bangkok Times and a freelance photographer for the English language Bangkok Post; M. Kamurudin, former associated editor of Free Indonesia in Medan, Indonesia, and staff editor of Mimbar Umum, now with the press, translating and advertising on public relations, at Linlithgow, library assistant of Hanol Vietnam, who wrote for the Trung Bac Chu Nhat magazine, who was a coffee plantation director for two years and in 1940 began bi-weekly Viet Nam, a national magazine.

While here they visited some of the outstanding hog, cattle, cotton, poultry and dairy farms in Bulloch county.

The recreation facilities and health activities of the county, as well as the prison system took another day of their time, and the various churches were visited on Sunday, accompanied by local people. Monday was spent going through the industrial parts of Statesboro and with the Rotary Club at the noonday meeting.

These four young men visited Georgia Teachers College on Tuesday, making a survey of the teaching methods used in the United States.

They came to Statesboro after some two months in other parts of the United States, having visited Washington, New York, Boston, lived on a farm in Kansas, and they left Wednesday for the Tennessee Valley project at Knoxville, Tenn.

Dizon, chief spokesman for the group, said that he was very much impressed with the friendly attitude of the people of Statesboro and Bulloch county as well as the other places he had visited. These people all seem very frank and honest, and he was impressed by the fact that generally they are hard working people.

His personal observations confirmed what he had already heard of the people of the United States and their standard of living. He stated some theories and books had in many instances misrepresented the American people, and he was happy to have a chance to make a personal tour of the country he had heard so much of. He declared that he found out that the greatness of America does not exist alone in its vast natural resources, but in the hearts of its people.

Mr. Covart lauded the action of congress in setting a definite 90 percent parity support program on the basic commodities for the next two years before it adjourned. The Georgia Farm Bureau had led the fight for just this type of legislation, even to the extent of friction within the national organization. It just meant too much to Georgia farmers not to go all out for it, Mr. Covart explained.

TEACHERS COLLEGE COST IS LOWEST

Student Expense Rates $500 Per Year As Compared With $650.00 to $945.00 Elsewhere

Georgia Teachers College operates at less cost to the student than any other of the eight white degree-granting colleges in the University System of Georgia.

The total annual student expense of $500 for the year compares with estimates from $650 to $945 for the year for the other senior colleges and is exactly even with student budgets of the lowest-priced junior colleges in the system.

The average cost for room and board at the college, listed at $110 for a quarter of three months, is the lowest in the entire system, which includes six junior colleges besides the senior institutions.

The tuition fee of $45 a quarter at the Teachers College and $30 in the junior colleges is included in the annual figures. These rates are set by the University System, but board and room charges are fixed by members of the units.

Facts about colleges in the system are presented in an attractive new bulletin being sent to all 1952 graduates of Georgia high schools.

Here's The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Just what it is that nibbles on a congressman's or a senator's equilibrium once he gets ensconced down there in Old Spentdown, is a nifty question. Here at home, before he was elected, he was a sensible feet-on-the-ground type of gent. He could add, subtract, pass a good IQ and all that, but once he is settled there at law makin' he can't even count real good. He can't tell 10 from 10 thousand if the 10 are noisy enough and pound his desk with vigor.

A little group—more than often, the left-handed variety—shows up, and sears the great man stiff. He thinks the group represents 10,000 votes—not just the 10. The Big Chiefs of labor, the "block" representing Govt. directed education, the dam building fraternity, overawe the man—he succumbs. Back home he was no sucker. He knows this country got to where it was prior to a dozen years ago via perspiration and self-reliance—he knows we have never been in a worse mess than right now after tasting for these dozen years of all the socialist Europe-type concoctions that put Europe on the skids.

So now what—and who is the biggest sucker or yokel, the law-makin' gent or just us voters who never chip. Send all answers to the Ed.—postpaid.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA.

College Athlete Goes To Professional Ball

Randy Whaley's athletic career at Georgia Teachers College was brilliant but brief. The temperamental star from Pelzer, S. C., lost his college eligibility when he began pitching professional baseball last week with the Statesboro Pilots of the Georgia State League.

Whaley, who stands six feet nine inches, was selected on the all-star basketball team as a freshman last winter, and also shone on the baseball mound. He drew two temporary suspensions during the college year, and according to Coach J. B. Soarce Jr., had agreed not to try to return this fall regardless of his eligibility.

YOUTHS NAMED ED ARE STRIVING FOR ED-UCATION
The Baptist Student Council at Georgia Teachers College has paraphrased an old saying to make it read, "Let 'Ed' do it." Members elected Ed Timmerman, Plains junior, president. He succeeds Ed Mitchell, Sylvania senior. Mitchell followed Eddie Ort, of Albany.

MRS. BERRY FLOYD
Funeral services for Mrs. Berry Floyd, 82, who died in the Bulloch County Hospital after a long illness, will be held today at 4 p. m. at Ash's Branch Primitive Baptist Church, with Elder Roy Sims officiating, assisted by Elder V. P. Bowers. Burial will be in the church cemetery. Active pallbearers will be H. L. Floyd Jr., Harold Floyd, Carrol Floyd, B. F. Davis, C. E. Nesmith and Lamar Nesmith. Arrangements are in charge of Smith-Tillman Mortuary.

Mrs. Floyd is survived by two sons, G. Floyd, Claxton, and Freeman Floyd, Pembroke; four daughters, Mrs. W. H. Davis, Brooklet; Mrs. J. Murphy, Pembroke; Mrs. Ernest Nesmith, Brooklet, and Mrs. O. H. Owens, Pembroke.

Need More Capitalists

THE FIRST comprehensive survey of the nation's share-ownership population, which was instigated by the New York Stock Exchange and conducted by the Bookings Institution, has just been published. It shows that 6,500,000 Americans now own shares in the corporations which supply us with goods and service. These people, who represent all income levels and all walks of life, are today's "capitalists."

But there is another side to the coin, and it was well expressed by the Exchange's president, when he said, "We know, for the first time, that there are some 41,500,000 people between 30 and 49 years of age who do not own any stock—many of them financially able to invest in common shares in their own best interests of our country's economy. We know, too, the size of the job that still has to be done before we can achieve the goal of making this a nation of share-owning capitalists."

"Industry is constantly searching for money to finance the expansion of existing facilities, to create new plants, to make new and better products. That search should be more fruitful as more people learn how to put their money to work."

What this country needs is more capitalists. One great difference between America and dictatorships is that here anyone can become a partner in a business by buying one or more shares of its stock. And the people who do that, along with their families, are people who have a direct personal interest in combating socialism and all the other isms, and maintaining the free enterprise system which is the backbone of all freedom. Their numbers can't grow too fast.

Have We Learned?

AS WE TRAVEL further away from the experiences of early life, the impression grows that things change constantly—but sooner or later get back to the original position. And the faster they go, the sooner they come back!

There was one boy in our class at Mrs. Plumb's log school house who sort of stumbled sometimes over the simplest statements of facts. In the "Blue Book" there was a page of short statements of facts, included among which was this line, "A duck is a plump fowl." That is evident truth, to be sure, but Walter Rogers stumbled when he read, "A duck is a plump fowl."

Or did he stumble? We have seen some sort of stable-bodied men and women—mostly men, to be sure—whom we suspected belonged in Walter's duck classification. They are men who sputter and blubber if they did not realize that "What goes up must come down, on your head or on the ground." They are men who refuse to recognize that there has never yet been a day (unless it is that of the present moment) when the sun did not see. They are the "plumb" kind who placed blame upon men and parties because the world travels around in circles, and "what goes up must come down."

If we specified, we should include in this list those solemn-countenanced individuals who want to turn back to the Republican party after this era of unprecedented prosperity under Democracy in which wages have been higher, income of farmers greater and "coin of the realm" more abundant—and never less low.

These wisecracks have forgotten that philosophy of school days, "what goes up must come down," which is true of the sun and the stars and of every phase of God's creation.

And this brings up to wonder how smart men—who speak with the wisdom of sages—can assume to hope that a Republican government, if re-instated to supplant the Democrats, can be different from what it has been in its every regime within the memory of living man?

Who can forget the collapses which have come under the three regimes of the great Republican philanthropist within the past half century.

Why expect—or hope for—a different condition if they are placed back in the saddle—that element whose interests and ideals are geographically and industrially different from the masses of the South?

That old rope swing hanging to the limb of the oak in the school yard was a plaything—and a body builder. The youngsters, smaller ones, sat on a board and were propelled by the older pupils, but the large, able-bodied boys had boys stood on the board and "churned" till the swing threatened to complete an over-head circle; and the surfer up it went on one side, the surfer it travels in coming down—and the higher it went on the other side.

Again, "what goes up must come down, on your head or on the ground!"

Who Won The Strike?

WHO WON THE OIL strike? The oil workers' union? Ask the average worker in a struck refinery if it was worth being out of work for four weeks—Did the oil companies win? Ask the stockholders who own the refineries that were shut down by picket lines! And, of course, long-suffering John Q. Public never wins anything!

Although remarkably few people seem aware of it, oil refinery workers are the best paid industrial employees in America today. They were close to the top even before the strike, and had been offered still another pay boost. The current round of wage settlements in the oil industry has elevated the average weekly pay of refinery workers to an estimated $91 a week, for a 40½-hour week. That figures out $2.24 an hour, the highest average hourly wage in the nation.

It cost the average oil worker who walked out approximately $340 to participate in that strike! Simple arithmetic will show that it will take the employee who was on strike for only a week about 70 weeks—well over a year—to make up the pay he lost. If he joined a strike for a month, he will have to work nearly six years to regain his lost pay.

In view of the high wages in refineries, and considering that the oil unions had rejected substantial wage increases offered by the oil companies months before the strike, it seems obvious that the unions could not have had any serious complaints about their wage benefits, for the oil worker has a very liberal measure of these, just as he has top-quality working conditions. It wouldn't have been about the right of collective bargaining, which his long been guaranteed.

HISTORY REPEATS

The lines which follow herewith are self-explanatory. They were clipped from the Bulloch Times at the beginning of the presidential campaign four years ago by a long-time subscriber, J. T. Roberts, who preserved them in his scrapbook. He offers the lines as timely again.

THE REPUBLICANS

(The lines which follow were handed us by Josh Zetterower, who received them during the week from his son, Joe, for many years living away from here and now a resident of St. Louis, Mo. The name of the author is not known, but those who read them will observe that they are packed with truth.)

The Republican's seed has sprouted and grew in the feeble minds of a simple few, and many a man has gone plumb crazy.

And made up his mind to vote for Dewey.

They've promised a lot and they'll promise more. But let us note what they did before! Sixteen years have passed and yet those Hoover days I'll never forget. When Hoover was in I lived on a farm—

A dollar bill looked as long as my arm; I never saw a ten-dollar bill, and if Dewey goes in I doubt if I will.

When Hoover was in, things were really tight—The rabbits were scarce and the fish wouldn't bite; The men were too ragged to go anywhere.

And the women wore flour-sack under-dress. Remember, men, when you cast your vote, Or water gray and black-eyed peas. Ever since nineteen hundred and thirty-two The Republican party has been in a stew; They've called the Democrats a nasty name, But the banks stayed open just the same.

If Dewey is elected, I'll move to the farm. And plant some 'taters behind the barn; I'll steal my neighbors' roasting ears And try to get by for four more years.

Waste Basket Poetry Rates A Top Notch

A poem retrieved from a waste-paper basket has brought recognition to a speech instructor at Georgia Teachers College. Dorothy Pharis wrote the poem and then threw it away because she thought "it wasn't any good." Later, when it was one of 100 poems chosen among 400,000 entered for publication in the new National Poetry Anthology, she gave credit to a student friend who had found the verse and insisted she submit it. The title is "Reluctance."

Must Maintain Records Children Farm Workers

Atlanta, June 28.—Amendment of the Fair Labor Standards Act record-keeping regulations as they apply to children employed on farms was announced today by the U. S. Department of Labor.

Issued by Michael J. Galvin as Acting Secretary of Labor, the amended regulations become effective August 11. Under them the farmer will be required to record three items for children under 18 years of age who work on his farm on days when school is in session. They are: (1) the child's name; (2) his date of birth; (3) the address of his permanent home, and where he lives while working if not at his permanent home. These items need not be entered only once for each child hired by the farmer.

Galvin's action takes under the Act's provisions which prohibit the employment of children under 16 in agriculture during school hours for the school district where the child lives while so employed. The Act as now written does not prohibit the employment of children outside school hours and does not apply to the farmer's own children who work on their parent's farm.

Galvin's action simplifies the present requirements applying to farmers. Complete text of the amendments was published in the Federal Register July 12. Copies may be obtained from the U. S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour Public Contracts Division. In Georgia, offices of the Division are located on the fourth floor of the Title Building, Atlanta, and at 207 Industrial Building, Savannah.

IPS IN PAY LOAD!

IF YOU use gasoline-powered tractors in the 45,000 GCW class, here's big news. This new GMC Series 470 will haul more pay load than any other vehicle of its rating with comparable standard equipment—up to more than a half-ton than some!

That's because GMC has found new ways to take dead weight out of truck design by advanced engineering.

One example is GMC's sensational new "302" valve-in-head engine that delivers 145 h.p. at 3200 r.p.m. It weighs less than other engines of equal power by as much as 500 lbs. Yet it's the highest-compression gasoline truck engine ever built—gives you extra mileage from regular fuel!

Come in. Compare them—in power, in pay load, in rugged long-life construction—against all the rest!

Then check the price and you'll agree: nowhere else will so little buy so much in a 3- to 4 1/2-ton truck!

ADDED BENEFITS GIVEN VETERANS

The amount prescribed for beneficiaries depends on varied personal conditions.

The president has signed into law a new GI Bill for veterans who served in the armed forces any place in the world since the start of the Korean conflict on June 27, 1950. There are five benefits included in this law, which are education and training, guaranteed or insured loans, unemployment compensation, mustering-out pay and job-finding help.

Education and training provisions allow one and one-half days of training for each day in service after the outbreak of the Korean fighting, regardless of where service was performed, up to a maximum of thirty-six months. However, veterans engaged in training for less than one year will receive a bonus of $100 for each month of training.

Tuition, fees, books, supplies and equipment will not be paid for by the government, but must be paid by the training allowance received each month.

Rates for full-time training in school and colleges are $110 a month, with no dependents; $135 with one dependent; $160 with more than one dependent. Less than full time will receive lower rates.

Top amounts for on-the-job training are $70 without dependents; $85 with one dependent; $105 with more than one dependent. Minimums for on-the-job training are $35, $110 and $130, respectively. On-job and on-farm rates will be reduced at four-month intervals as training progresses and earnings increase. A $150-a-month ceiling for job training regardless of dependents.

Unemployment compensation is administered through the states by the U. S. Department of Labor, provides unemployment payments of $26 per week for twenty-six weeks. The top amount is $675. This program takes effect 90 days from now, and is in part tied up with the new mustering-out program. A waiting period is required before filing for unemployment if mustering-out pay is received and the waiting period is determined by the amount received.

Mustering-out payments will be made to anyone who has a rank of captain or less. Must have an honorable discharge. Payments are $300 with a least 60 days service and active duty outside the continental limits of the United States or Alaska; $200 for 60 days or more service not outside the U. S. A. or Alaska; $100 for those with less than 60 days.

Job-finding assistance is the same as for veterans of World War II. Includes job counseling and employment placement service of the Veterans Employment Service, a part of the U. S. A. A. Alaska; $100 for those with less than 60 days.

Mr. Rucker had lived in Bulloch for the past 50 years, coming here from Banks county. He was a member of the First Baptist Church, and was a survivor of the war, having been in the U. S. Navy in World War I.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been announced. Burial will be in the cemetery.
